Eat Japan

～Omusubi～

This series features tableware decorated with motifs of Japanese foods that are also popular with international customers.
Omusubi, or Japanese rice balls, are considered auspicious foods.
As the name suggests, the word is associated with “tying bonds” and “bringing people together,” symbolizing good connections and relationships.

Fair lady Flower

The flower design in the classic Japanese style is sterically represented by the technique of “slip-trailing” to draw the radial lines and dots in the center on the glaze of gentle colors of pink, white and green.
The combination of the 3 colors is inspired by the Japanese traditional sweet dumpling.

Feature of the collection

It keeps both warm and cool by thermal effect ofthe double-layered vacuum structure.
Also, it can be used as a tumbler to pour a drink directly, without dew on the surface.

Mug | ￥1,350 (Inc. Tax￥1,485) Porcelain Φ9×h8.5cm 340ml (Made in China) 〈1×48〉

This Mug collection is made by general ceramic, so that it has no thermal function of stainless-steel collections.

The thermal effect by the double-layered stainless-steel structure for vacuum is to keep a drink with the favorable temperature.

The body has the thermal function to keep the best temperature of drink.
In addition, it can be kept even longer with top cover. It is to enjoy the drink until the very last when it gets empty. It is always easy to hold, since there is no dew for a cold drink and no scald is caused by a hot drink.

The opening of the top cover can be closed by sliding the door part.

The other advantages of the top cover

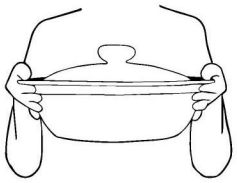

- By covering the top, the best temperature of drink is kept for a long time. It suits the person who wants to enjoy the drink by sipping.
- It prevents from the bad smell of metal when a hot drink is poured.
- No need to care of dust, so you can enjoy the drink outside too.
